

The Owingsville Outlook

VOL. XIX.

OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1898.

NO. 36.

SPRING OPENING

Of all the new ideas in

MILLINERY, DRESS GOODS and NOTIONS.

I have all the latest styles in Madras, Percales, Gingham, Woolen Goods and Trimmings, White Goods, Lawns and Dimities.

The first week in April I will have an opening of all the latest and nobby things in MILLINERY. All goods sold at the very lowest prices. I ask for a liberal share of your patronage.

Very Respectfully,

MRS. D. S. ESTILL.

Oliver gave to the world the chilled plow.

Neri Sweetnam sold to Wm. D. Young last week 41 head of hogs at $3.30 per cwt.

The Oliver still leads, others follow. Ramsey & Co.

John Wesley Hedge, the five-year-old son of Frank Hedge, the colored barber, died Saturday morning of pneumonia.

Trying a Vulcan one time, and you will use no other Chilled Plow.

Ex-Sheriff J. W. Lane was ringing a cow's nose to keep her from rotting up his grass last week. One of his fingers got in the cow's mouth and she bit it off.

Clover Seed at $3 per bushel at Brother & Goodpastor's.

The ladies of the Salt Lick M. E. Church will give an old-fashioned box supper at the church in that town, on Saturday night, March 26. All are invited to come and she bit it off.

The verdict of the people is "The Oliver is good enough for me."

Masonville, Lonsdale and Hope Bleach Cotton, 6c per yard.

BLUE FRONT CASH STORE, Gillon's Old Stand.

Buy your Seed Potatoes and Onion Sets of Brother & Goodpastor.

The old board of directors of the Owingsville, Bald Eagle & Sharpshooter turnpike sold the toll-house at Prickly Ash to Horstman Bros. for $275. The purchasers will move their stock of goods into it.

Just received: an elegant line of Shirt Waists. We have them from 50c to $1.

BLUE FRONT CASH STORE, Gillon's Old Stand.

The talk about other chilled plows only advertises the Oliver.

T. S. Shroust is the only undertaker in the town doing business who has his Diploma for Embalming the Dead. Satisfaction guaranteed or no charge.

If one set of my Hand-made Check-lines, Blind Bridges and Wagon Gearing don't outwear two sets of the so-called hand-made you get other places, I won't charge you a cent for the balance.

ECUENE MINIHAN.

Capt. Edmund Q. Wells, of near town, was kicked by his horse while passing him in the barn Sunday afternoon. The animal palmed both feet in the small of Mr. Wells' back, breaking a rib and causing considerable pain, but nothing more serious than a temporary soreness is likely to result.

Our line of Clothing is complete, and when we price them to you it will be hard indeed to resist buying. Nice Double-breasted Knee Suits at 75c. VIC BLOOMFIELD & CO., Gillon's Old Stand.

If you will stop in at Ramsey's you will find a large stock of 16, 18 and 20 feet hand-made check lines cheaper than ever sold in Owingsville.

Brother & Goodpastor have the largest stock of Onion Sets, Seed Potatoes, Beans, Peas, Corn, etc., in town.

T. S. Shroust has the Largest Line of Furniture in Bath Co., at the lowest prices. Persons going to housekeeping this spring will save $5 by calling on him.

The Fiscal Court closed the deal with the O. & McIntyre's Ferry turnpike company Tuesday, the county agreeing to assume the road's indebtedness. The Sheriff had been summoning guards for the toll-gates on this road. The Legislature failed to pass the partial repeal of the Martin Mob law over the Governor's veto.

Ramsey & Co. have now on hand the largest, best selected and cheapest stock of Plow and Wagon Gearing ever in this market and they are selling them.

T. S. Shroust has on hand a complete line of new Buggies and Phaetons which he will trade you for an old one or for a horse or mule. Prices very low for new buggies for cash or trade.

31-6

The Vulcan is the lightest and strongest Chilled Plow. The points always fit. See the new corrugated points for roots, at E. Minihan's.

All sizes of Vulcan Plow points, at JNO. A. RAMSEY & CO'S.

Have you seen Ramsey's new stock of Breeching, Collars, Hames, &c.?

There are Oliver chilled plows in this county that have been in constant use for thirty years.

We have Dress Goods in all the latest shades to fit your purse. See them and you will buy a Dress Pattern. All-wool fancy Dress Goods, 25c.

BLACK FRONT CASH STORE, Gillon's Old Stand.

Buy an Oliver chilled plow, and with a few repairs you will have a good plow the rest of your life.

Buy your Garden Seed in the bulk of Brother & Goodpastor. They have anything you want and their prices are the lowest.

Young housekeepers can find everything in Stoves, Queensware, Glassware, Tinware and Woodware cheaper than ever known at Jno. A. Ramsey & Co's.

For first-class cutting and dress-making call on or apply to Mrs. Dollie Lyter and Miss Emma Hamilton at their home on Prickly Ash.

That's right! You can get anything you want at Brother & Goodpastor's: Clover Seed, Timothy Seed, Blue Grass Seed, Oat Seed, Garden Seed, &c., &c.

Ramsey & Co. have a large stock of Oliver Chilled Plows, and have sold more already than for two years past. This speaks for itself.

I will sell you a Vulcan and if it is not the best Chilled Plow you ever used, bring it back and I will refund your money.

ECUENE MINIHAN.

We are now offering for CASH Galvanized Barbed Wire at $2.25; Galvanized Smooth Wire, No. 9, cash, $1.90. Other sizes smooth wire in proportion for cash.

JOHN A. RAMSEY & CO.

Our line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses' Shoes consist of nice, dressy Shoes of all grades and our prices are lower than anywhere else.

VIC BLOOMFIELD & CO., Blue Front Cash Store.

THE BEST.—The Oliver is the only plow made that has a point in one piece. When you put on a point you have the cutter; you don't have to put on a shin-piece to complete the cutter; thus leaving a crack to catch trash.

Tobacco Report.—EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE OUTLOOK BY J. S. PHELPS & CO., PLANTERS WAREHOUSE.—Louisville, March 19, 1898.—Receipts for the week, 1,810 hhds.; sales, 3,388 hhds., divided as follows: 396 Old Burley, 2,472 New Burley, 379 Old Dark, and 141 New Dark.

The weather this week has been against our tobacco market, warm rainy days causing tobacco to show very soft when otherwise it would have been in fair order. In spite of this we have had the best market of the year on all tobacco of decided character. Any irregularity that has occurred has been confined to rough, nondescript, green sorts, or tobacco in very bad condition. Rejections of this kind have been few, showing that prices for them were not as satisfactory as last week. On Friday our house sold a round crop from Henry Co. as follows:

Bright Leaf.....$23.00
Red Leaf.....23.00
Lugs.....14.25
Tips.....12.50
Flings.....6.50
Average.....15.93

All rejections of good fillery tobacco that were resold showed the market to be from two to three cents higher on this grade than in February. Bright lugs and trashes in strong demand and prices fully up to last week's quotations. The quality of the offerings, as a rule, were again very mean this week, many crops being sold for which there was no demand whatever from country buyers.

The medium grades of Old tobacco were decidedly better this week. Tobaccos that have been selling at from $10.50 to $11.50 brought this week about 13 cents. Common grades of Old a little better than last week, but not up to the prices ruling in February. The stocks of Old tobacco are being rapidly reduced, and in 60 days our market will be almost bare of Old tobacco.

NIXON-HERMANN.—Mr. W. L. Nixon left last Friday for Peoria, Illinois, to get married Monday evening to Miss Lena Hermann. They will return to Cincinnati to spend a few days, when they will return home and go to housekeeping adjoining the property of James Gillon. Miss Hermann is said to be a very handsome and intelligent young lady. She and Mr. Nixon have been lovers for some years; in fact, as is understood, ever since Mr. Nixon was a citizen of that place. Her choice of Mr. Nixon shows her good judgment. Mr. Nixon stands as well as any young man ever raised in this town. He has qualified himself for business until he is the head of one of the largest dry-goods stores in the city and his friends are legion. THE OUTLOOK throws the old shoe at Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nixon and wishes them all sorts of success in life.

While in Kentucky I could only fancy what pleasure it must be to visit the ocean, see the waves dash high in the air, hunt sea-shells, and see the steamers going to and fro. Now I am satisfied when all these and many other scenes pleasing to the eye are realized. The whales can often be seen spouting and rising above the top of the water, and the sea lion can be seen and heard howling from the summit of some ocean rock. Pleasure-seekers from all over the United States and many from foreign countries come to the famous Del Monte Hotel and spend months enjoying the fine weather and picturesque scenery. I, like Mr. Mead, expected to find in the Creoles the beauty of Beaufort or that of Coral Gables as was described in your story columns some time ago, but I also was sadly disappointed. I think that if Mr. Mead could see some of the Spanish señoritas (young ladies) he would agree with me that they possess the charms of the Bath county belles. Before closing I must compliment "Clodhopper" for his lively and interesting letters. Why can't we have a correspondent from Reynoldsville? Wishing THE OUTLOOK much success, and may it ever stand on its firm basis of "Gold."

I remain your friend,
ELMER SWETNAM.

FROM MISSOURI.—Marshall, Mo.—EDITOR OUTLOOK, DEAR SIR: Looking through my old scrap book a few days ago I ran across an article that I had clipped from some paper several years ago. It was rather a traditional history, that was much talked about when I was a boy, and will be doubtless remembered by some of the older readers of THE OUTLOOK. The Sprinkle dollar, the silver mine and the hidden treasure were common topics, as I remember, of conversation. Old Dr. Roe, a brother-in-law of Jefferson Rice, both are now gone, said that Sprinkle showed him where he manufactured the coin between two cliffs in Lewis county, but would not tell him where he obtained the ore. Some time ago, at that time who lived on Licking river believed that they had found the thread that led to the labyrinth in the mountains of Bath county. Many searches were made, but the hidden treasure yet remains unrevealed to man. I would like to hear how many of THE OUTLOOK's readers remember about the Josiah Sprinkle dollars.

I send you the article copied from my scrap book.

THE SPRINKLE DOLL.

AN OLD KENTUCKIAN'S COINAGE BEFORE THE DECLINE IN SILVER. (From the Washington Times.)

"I saw by the papers the other day where three of the famous Sprinkle dollars had shown up," said F. L. Trobridge, of Peoria, Ill., at the National.

"Do you know what the Sprinkle dollars were? No? Well, Josiah Sprinkle, the man in question, lived in one of the roughest sections of Lewis county, Ky. Washington, the county seat of Mason, was a thriving town. One day Sprinkle, then an old man, appeared at Washington with a buckskin pouch full of silver dollars of his own make. In every respect they appeared the equal of the national coin.

"The weight was more than at present, and the quality and ring were all that could be asked for. He spent them freely, and everybody accepted them upon the assurance of Sprinkle that they were all right except that they were not made by the United States mint. Upon being asked where he got the silver he replied: 'Oh, it don't matter. There is plenty of it left.' The inscriptions on the coins were merely outlined, and in nowise was an attempt made at imitating the national coin. On one side of the coin was an owl and on the other a six-pointed star. The edges were smooth. The coins were considerably larger and thicker than the United States coins. Whenever Sprinkle came to town he spent the dollars of his own make. At one time he volunteered the information that he had a silver mine in the west, but one old man refused to test any where it was located.

is unequalled. Some may prefer a residence in the beautiful semitropics of the South, where the winters are to be much enjoyed and the summers search the backs of the lizards, but I prefer a more equable climate.

LOCAL TOBACCO SALES.—Jas. M. Richard's purchases: west of town, John Hedrick & Son's at 8c with 50 lbs. thrown in; in town, John Duncan's at 8c with 25 pounds thrown in; on lower State Creek, Tucker Manley's at 8c; on Jones' Branch, crop of New Cassidy and New Kincaid at 9c; New Kincaid's at 8c.

Peed & Goodpastor's purchases: on lower State, crop of J. T. Atchison and John Tineher at 5c.

Robertson Bros' (of Bethel) purchases: near town, crop of T. W. Ewing and Thomas Stone at 7c.

Cud Snedegar's (of Wyoming) purchases: on Flat Creek, crop of John Hedrick and Alfred Steele at 8c; on Prickly Ash, James Conyers' at 7c; on Mink's Run, crops of J. B. Crouch and tenants Mart and Lee Crouch at 8c with 5c premium; on Lower Prickly Ash, A. K. Coyle and Moses Fitzpatrick at 8c.

J. D. Noel bought for Liggett & Myers, of St. Louis, on Bald Eagle, E. S. Ratliff's at 11c.

SIGN AND WONDERS.—There was a display of aurora phenomena witnessed here in the north to northwest Tuesday night of last week about 8 o'clock. When first observed there was a white glow at the horizon that shifted about slowly and finally sent up streamers toward the zenith. The streamers would appear and disappear, to be succeeded by a faint crimson color. The display was interesting, but nothing to be compared with the magnificent and positively startling display witnessed here on the night of April 16, 1882. Then the whole northern sky from the horizon nearly to the zenith for an extent of at least ninety degrees was covered by a bright yellow flame-colored curtain that waved as if agitated from the horizon upward. When the light faded an intense crimson color appeared. Amusing stories were told of some superstitious folks who saw it and were convinced that the end of the world had come. Of course, some who saw last week's display interpreted it to be one of the signs that foretold war, and a New York "Yaller" journal made much of it, knowing at the same time the scientific aspect of it. Such phenomena invariably accompany some disturbances in the sun such as sun spots. As to which is the cause of the other scientists are not determined.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—Monterey, California, Mar. 13, 1898.—TO THE OUTLOOK, Owingsville, Ky.: As THE OUTLOOK is a regular visitor, and one of my most welcome visitors, I will drop it a few lines.

When I look back and think of the "Old Kentucky" winters I can hardly realize that I have gone through a winter at all, the weather has been so nice and warm. The fruit ranchers have kept their fruit in houses all winter, and instead of being affected by freezes it is as nice and fresh now as when gathered. The farmers are beginning to plant corn. We plant from the 1st of March every two weeks until late in the fall, so as to have green corn for the cows. This place (The Del Monte Creamery) some months sells three thousand dollars' worth of butter and milk, but a smaller average for the year. The Creamery employs from fourteen to eighteen laborers, all their own housekeepers and fed by a Chinese cook.

I have been in California a short time, but long enough to be convinced of the advantages over the Eastern States in all—health, pleasure and profit, and a climate which is unequalled. Some may prefer a residence in the beautiful semitropics of the South, where the winters are to be much enjoyed and the summers search the backs of the lizards, but I prefer a more equable climate.

While in Kentucky I could only fancy what pleasure it must be to visit the ocean, see the waves dash high in the air, hunt sea-shells, and see the steamers going to and fro. Now I am satisfied when all these and many other scenes pleasing to the eye are realized. The whales can often be seen spouting and rising above the top of the water, and the sea lion can be seen and heard howling from the summit of some ocean rock. Pleasure-seekers from all over the United States and many from foreign countries come to the famous Del Monte Hotel and spend months enjoying the fine weather and picturesque scenery. I, like Mr. Mead, expected to find in the Creoles the beauty of Beaufort or that of Coral Gables as was described in your story columns some time ago, but I also was sadly disappointed. I think that if Mr. Mead could see some of the Spanish señoritas (young ladies) he would agree with me that they possess the charms of the Bath county belles. Before closing I must compliment "Clodhopper" for his lively and interesting letters. Why can't we have a correspondent from Reynoldsville? Wishing THE OUTLOOK much success, and may it ever stand on its firm basis of "Gold."

I remain your friend,
ELMER SWETNAM.

FROM MISSOURI.—Marshall, Mo.—EDITOR OUTLOOK, DEAR SIR: Looking through my old scrap book a few days ago I ran across an article that I had clipped from some paper several years ago. It was rather a traditional history, that was much talked about when I was a boy, and will be doubtless remembered by some of the older readers of THE OUTLOOK. The Sprinkle dollar, the silver mine and the hidden treasure were common topics, as I remember, of conversation. Old Dr. Roe, a brother-in-law of Jefferson Rice, both are now gone, said that Sprinkle showed him where he manufactured the coin between two cliffs in Lewis county, but would not tell him where he obtained the ore. Some time ago, at that time who lived on Licking river believed that they had found the thread that led to the labyrinth in the mountains of Bath county. Many searches were made, but the hidden treasure yet remains unrevealed to man. I would like to hear how many of THE OUTLOOK's readers remember about the Josiah Sprinkle dollars.

I send you the article copied from my scrap book.

THE SPRINKLE DOLL.

AN OLD KENTUCKIAN'S COINAGE BEFORE THE DECLINE IN SILVER. (From the Washington Times.)

"I saw by the papers the other day where three of the famous Sprinkle dollars had shown up," said F. L. Trobridge, of Peoria, Ill., at the National.

"Do you know what the Sprinkle dollars were? No? Well, Josiah Sprinkle, the man in question, lived in one of the roughest sections of Lewis county, Ky. Washington, the county seat of Mason, was a thriving town. One day Sprinkle, then an old man, appeared at Washington with a buckskin pouch full of silver dollars of his own make. In every respect they appeared the equal of the national coin.

"The weight was more than at present, and the quality and ring were all that could be asked for. He spent them freely, and everybody accepted them upon the assurance of Sprinkle that they were all right except that they were not made by the United States mint. Upon being asked where he got the silver he replied: 'Oh, it don't matter. There is plenty of it left.' The inscriptions on the coins were merely outlined, and in nowise was an attempt made at imitating the national coin. On one side of the coin was an owl and on the other a six-pointed star. The edges were smooth. The coins were considerably larger and thicker than the United States coins. Whenever Sprinkle came to town he spent the dollars of his own make. At one time he volunteered the information that he had a silver mine in the west, but one old man refused to test any where it was located.

is unequalled. Some may prefer a residence in the beautiful semitropics of the South, where the winters are to be much enjoyed and the summers search the backs of the lizards, but I prefer a more equable climate.

While in Kentucky I could only fancy what pleasure it must be to visit the ocean, see the waves dash high in the air, hunt sea-shells, and see the steamers going to and fro. Now I am satisfied when all these and many other scenes pleasing to the eye are realized. The whales can often be seen spouting and rising above the top of the water, and the sea lion can be seen and heard howling from the summit of some ocean rock. Pleasure-seekers from all over the United States and many from foreign countries come to the famous Del Monte Hotel and spend months enjoying the fine weather and picturesque scenery. I, like Mr. Mead, expected to find in the Creoles the beauty of Beaufort or that of Coral Gables as was described in your story columns some time ago, but I also was sadly disappointed. I think that if Mr. Mead could see some of the Spanish señoritas (young ladies) he would agree with me that they possess the charms of the Bath county belles. Before closing I must compliment "Clodhopper" for his lively and interesting letters. Why can't we have a correspondent from Reynoldsville? Wishing THE OUTLOOK much success, and may it ever stand on its firm basis of "Gold."

I remain your friend,
ELMER SWETNAM.

FROM MISSOURI.—Marshall, Mo.—EDITOR OUTLOOK, DEAR SIR: Looking through my old scrap book a few days ago I ran across an article that I had clipped from some paper several years ago. It was rather a traditional history, that was much talked about when I was a boy, and will be doubtless remembered by some of the older readers of THE OUTLOOK. The Sprinkle dollar, the silver mine and the hidden treasure were common topics, as I remember, of conversation. Old Dr. Roe, a brother-in-law of Jefferson Rice, both are now gone, said that Sprinkle showed him where he manufactured the coin between two cliffs in Lewis county, but would not tell him where he obtained the ore. Some time ago, at that time who lived on Licking river believed that they had found the thread that led to the labyrinth in the mountains of Bath county. Many searches were made, but the hidden treasure yet remains unrevealed to man. I would like to hear how many of THE OUTLOOK's readers remember about the Josiah Sprinkle dollars.

I send you the article copied from my scrap book.

THE SPRINKLE DOLL.

AN OLD KENTUCKIAN'S COINAGE BEFORE THE DECLINE IN SILVER. (From the Washington Times.)

"I saw by the papers the other day where three of the famous Sprinkle dollars had shown up," said F. L. Trobridge, of Peoria, Ill., at the National.

"Do you know what the Sprinkle dollars were? No? Well, Josiah Sprinkle, the man in question, lived in one of the roughest sections of Lewis county, Ky. Washington, the county seat of Mason, was a thriving town. One day Sprinkle, then an old man, appeared at Washington with a buckskin pouch full of silver dollars of his own make. In every respect they appeared the equal of the national coin.

"The weight was more than at present, and the quality and ring were all that could be asked for. He spent them freely, and everybody accepted them upon the assurance of Sprinkle that they were all right except that they were not made by the United States mint. Upon being asked where he got the silver he replied: 'Oh, it don't matter. There is plenty of it left.' The inscriptions on the coins were merely outlined, and in nowise was an attempt made at imitating the national coin. On one side of the coin was an owl and on the other a six-pointed star. The edges were smooth. The coins were considerably larger and thicker than the United States coins. Whenever Sprinkle came to town he spent the dollars of his own make. At one time he volunteered the information that he had a silver mine in the west, but one old man refused to test any where it was located.

is unequalled. Some may prefer a residence in the beautiful semitropics of the South, where the winters are to be much enjoyed and the summers search the backs of the lizards, but I prefer a more equable climate.

While in Kentucky I could only fancy what pleasure it must be to visit the ocean, see the waves dash high in the air, hunt sea-shells, and see the steamers going to and fro. Now I am satisfied when all these and many other scenes pleasing to the eye are realized. The whales can often be seen spouting and rising above the top of the water, and the sea lion can be seen and heard howling from the summit of some ocean rock. Pleasure-seekers from all over the United States and many from foreign countries come to the famous Del Monte Hotel and spend months enjoying the fine weather and picturesque scenery. I, like Mr. Mead, expected to find in the Creoles the beauty of Beaufort or that of Coral Gables as was described in your story columns some time ago, but I also was sadly disappointed. I think that if Mr. Mead could see some of the Spanish señoritas (young ladies) he would agree with me that they possess the charms of the Bath county belles. Before closing I must compliment "Clodhopper" for his lively and interesting letters. Why can't we have a correspondent from Reynoldsville? Wishing THE OUTLOOK much success, and may it ever stand on its firm basis of "Gold."

I remain your friend,
ELMER SWETNAM.

FROM MISSOURI.—Marshall, Mo.—EDITOR OUTLOOK, DEAR SIR: Looking through my old scrap book a few days ago I ran across an article that I had clipped from some paper several years ago. It was rather a traditional history, that was much talked about when I was a boy, and will be doubtless remembered by some of the older readers of THE OUTLOOK. The Sprinkle dollar, the silver mine and the hidden treasure were common topics, as I remember, of conversation. Old Dr. Roe, a brother-in-law of Jefferson Rice, both are now gone, said that Sprinkle showed him where he manufactured the coin between two cliffs in Lewis county, but would not tell him where he obtained the ore. Some time ago, at that time who lived on Licking river believed that they had found the thread that led to the labyrinth in the mountains of Bath county. Many searches were made, but the hidden treasure yet remains unrevealed to man. I would like to hear how many of THE OUTLOOK's readers remember about the Josiah Sprinkle dollars.

I send you the article copied from my scrap book.

THE SPRINKLE DOLL.

WAR! WAR!

We have declared war, not against Spain, but against these high-priced merchants, and they feel as though war has been here since we came among you, as we are determined to sell you goods cheaper than you ever bought them before. Our line of spring goods is complete now.

FIT YOUR FEET

with a pair of our Shoes. We have a large stock of up-to-date shoes that we can give you any size without trouble in any size you may select. Our shoes are well-made, look and wear well. Prices are lower than anywhere else.

Our Men's Shoes now from 98c to $4.50
"Ladies" " " 75c to $4.00
Misses' and Children's Shoes, 20c to $1.50
Men's Plow Shoes, 98c to $1.75

UP-TO-DATE

is our Dry Goods line. You will do well to examine our splendid line of Dress Goods, all the latest shades and different cloth. Our prices will suit your purse.

All-wool, fancy and solid colors, in spring style, 25c to $1.40.
Masonville Bleach Cotton, 6c
10-4 Pepperell Bleach Sheet, 17c

Boys' Double-breasted Knee Suits, 75c to $5.00
Men's Suits, the kind that make you satisfied that you are well-dressed, now $3.50, 5, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

Extra good Bleach Cotton, 4c
All kinds Calico, 4c
1 yd. wide Brown Cotton, 4c
Very best Red Ticking, 8 1/2, 12 1/2, 15
Best Shirting Cotton, 5 and 6c
Table Oil Cloth, 15c
5 papers Pins, 5c
Window Shades, 17c
Our line Percale, 7 1/2, 8 1/2, 10, 12 1/2

Men's Pants, 10c to 15c

Extra good Bleach Cotton, 4c
All kinds Calico, 4c
1 yd. wide Brown Cotton, 4c
Very best Red Ticking, 8 1/2, 12 1/2, 15
Best Shirting Cotton, 5 and 6c
Table Oil Cloth, 15c
5 papers Pins, 5c
Window Shades, 17c
Our line Percale, 7 1/2, 8 1/2, 10, 12 1/2

Men's Suits, the kind that make you satisfied that you are well-dressed, now $3.50, 5, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

Extra good Bleach Cotton, 4c
All kinds Calico, 4c
1 yd. wide Brown Cotton, 4c
Very best Red Ticking, 8 1/2, 12 1/2, 15
Best Shirting Cotton, 5 and 6c
Table Oil Cloth, 15c
5 papers Pins, 5c
Window Shades, 17c
Our line Percale, 7 1/2, 8 1/2, 10, 12 1/2

Men's Suits, the kind that make you satisfied that you are well-dressed, now $3.50, 5, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

Extra good Bleach Cotton, 4c
All kinds Calico, 4c
1 yd. wide Brown Cotton, 4c
Very best Red Ticking, 8 1/2, 12 1/2, 15
Best Shirting Cotton, 5 and 6c
Table Oil Cloth, 15c
5 papers Pins, 5c
Window Shades, 17c
Our line Percale, 7 1/2, 8 1/2, 10, 12 1/2

Men's Suits, the kind that make you satisfied that you are well-dressed, now $3.50, 5, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

Extra good Bleach Cotton, 4c
All kinds Calico, 4c
1 yd. wide Brown Cotton, 4c
Very best Red Ticking, 8 1/2, 12 1/2, 15
Best Shirting Cotton, 5 and 6c
Table Oil Cloth, 15c
5 papers Pins, 5c
Window Shades, 17c
Our line Percale, 7 1/2, 8 1/2, 10, 12 1/2

Men's Suits, the kind that make you satisfied that you are well-dressed, now $3.50, 5, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

Extra good Bleach Cotton, 4c
All kinds Calico,

Owingsville Outlook.

D. S. ESTILL, Publisher.
OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A few years ago our war ships were manned very largely by foreigners, but 250 of 550 men lost with the Maine were born in the United States, and all but 19 of the balance had taken out naturalization papers. These figures sustain the statement that the average of Americans in our navy is higher than in the army.

An ingenious stage waterfall device at M. Galliard has attracted attention at the Paris opera house. It is made of tulle stretched on frames, imitating the curves of a fall. Behind it little streams of water are discharged through perforated pipes against a metal plate, so as to throw a spray upon the tulle. When the electric light is played on this the effect is magical.

The princess of Montenegro, the beautiful mother of the crown prince of Italy, has been visiting Rome and during the Roman by wearing her national costume. When she wears a bright scarlet silk dress thickly embroidered with gold, and on her head a diadem of black velvet glistening with gold coins and gems. For the opera she dresses in cloth of gold.

The countries where the long finger nails are most affected are Siam, Assam, Cochinchina and China. The approved length varies from three or four to twenty-three inches. A Siamese exquisite permits the nails on his fingers to grow to such an extent that his hands are practically useless. The aristocrats who affect these nails can not write, dress themselves or even feed themselves.

Discouragement to home industry is the policy of the Austrian government, judging from the result of the embargo placed on American apples. Since the adoption of the restrictive measure, among the apples grown and developed until it is a very profitable, though contraband pursuit, so great is the demand for American apples, the superior excellence of which even the Germans acknowledge.

As island, it is announced in Paris, has suddenly appeared on the north coast of Liberia, opposite the town of Lohabua. Its appearance appears to be due to the earthquake which happened in September, near Kadiat, in British Borneo. The island measures 200 yards in length by 30 in width, and it has gone on increasing since its first appearance.

The largest turkey ever shipped from New Florence, Pa., and probably the largest ever seen in that section of the country was sold to Johnstown parties the other day by David Cunningham, farmer there. It weighed 44 pounds. The bird weighed 44 pounds, 10 ounces, and it was gone on increasing since its first appearance.

There are in the United States, roughly speaking, 350,000 school teachers, and of this number 120,000 are men and 230,000 are women. In other words, there are nearly twice as many female as male teachers, and the disparity is increasing every year. There are 140,000 teachers in France, of whom 55,000 are men and 75,000 are women, the number of each being subject to about the same ratio of increase.

Nor including the higher institutions which are not sustained by the state, there are in the United States 249,908 public school houses, attended by 14,579,078 pupils. There are 430,325 teachers. The males number 179,000 and receive an average monthly salary of $17.57; the females number 290,326 and receive on an average about seven dollars less per month than do the males. The education of each pupil costs $16.92 annually. The value of all the public school property is $435,948,164.

RELEVANT, the anarchist, who recently murdered a Paris policeman and wounded two others, has found out a use for lawyers. Having refused to defend himself or employ a lawyer, the court assigned one to take charge of the defense. Relevan would have nothing to do with him, declaring that he wished to be condemned to death, till the lawyer explained that no jury trial was being held in this case, and that punishment would be determined by the court. Relevan accepted his services.

The treasury department announces that five cent nickel and one cent bronze pieces will be furnished on application in sums of $20 for transportation charges, at all points reached by the United States express companies, except in the following named cities: New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco. The coins not reached by the express companies will be sent by registered mail at the applicant's risk, the register fee to be paid by the government.

Two men living in St. Helena who were born respectively in 1785 and 1802 are not the only persons now living who have seen the American great. Thomas De Molegna, who was twenty years county court judge of Kentucky, who was called to the Irish bar in 1851, and appointed a queen's counsel in 1855, served in his early boyhood as a midshipman on board the Belleophon when Napoleon, on July 15, 1815, after "the hundred days," placed himself under the British cannon and received on board the Belleophon.

Mr. Otzen of Wisconsin, introduced a bill in congress to establish a commission of public health. This commission is to be under the "control and management" of a commissioner of public health appointed by the president. The commissioner must be a physician and a member of some recognized sanitary or medical society. He is to appoint an assistant commissioner and an advisory council consisting of a representative from each state board of health, from the department of justice and from the medical corps of the United States army and navy.

A more wonderful feat has been proposed to the British government. It is to raise by means of monster man nets the great battleship Victoria, which at present lies at the bottom of the Mediterranean sea. If this is successfully performed, and electro-scientists can make a net which will be done, it will revolutionize the wrecking industry, as well as make a stride in electric science.

Costly experiment on the part of the British government is of capturing the present time, in the sinking of the American battleship Olinde in Havana harbor.

NOT READY TO REPORT.

The Court of Inquiry Will Continue Its Work During the Week.

Preparations for War Continue With Unabated Vigor—Four of the Maine Survivors Had a Long Consultation With Secretary of Navy and President.

KEY WEST, March 21.—The court of inquiry, according to Mr. Adm. Sicard, will continue its work through the coming week, as it is not yet ready to make a report on the Maine disaster. The statement that Capt. Albert S. Barker carried the report to Washington is officially denied. The object of his flying visit to Key West was not to present a report, but to confer with the court of inquiry on the subject of the harbor defenses, following out some lines suggested by General Winslow, chief of engineers, in his recent inspection of the harbor defenses.

He came here on Friday from Tampa on a special mission to investigate the harbor defenses, following out some lines suggested by General Winslow, chief of engineers, in his recent inspection of the harbor defenses. Capt. Barker's plan, when he left here Saturday night, was to confer with Commander McCalla, of the Marchioness, who is now at Tampa, and he will probably return here on Monday. Capt. Barker formerly commanded the Oregon.

It is impossible to say definitely whether any synopsis of the findings of the court of inquiry will be sent to Washington. The notion prevails here that this has been done, but no official confirmation is obtainable. That the final report has been sent to Washington is a matter of course.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The keen expectancy was apparent in all official quarters Saturday in anticipation of the early receipt of the report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. Warlike preparations continued with unabated vigor at the war and navy departments, but the main interest of officials centered in the findings of the court of inquiry.

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

First Regular Session.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 18, SENATE. During the session of three hours Monday the next legislative business of the session passed a considerable number of bills from the calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of a light on the coast of Maine.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

Regular Session.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The resolution directing the auditor to report the next legislative session the amount of taxes collected on whisky up to September, 1895, and the amount of the same for the year ending September 1, 1896, was adopted.

FROM ALL OVER THE STATE.

Regular Session.

T. H. PURYEAR.

One of Louisville's Leading Business Men, Commenced Shooting, and Killed Himself.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—T. H. Puryear, one of the city's leading men, a large tobacco dealer, banker, manufacturer and identified with other industries, shot himself Saturday morning and is now believed to be in a dying condition. Two doctors are with him but give him no hope. He had been ill a week.

VEVING BILLS.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Bradley was hard at work all day examining bills and he evidently had his veto machine in fine working order, as he knocked out almost as many bills as he received.

A DOCTOR'S DIRECTIONS.

They save a daughter from blindness.

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra-generous in the statement if you know the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There's no good of it, for you do not need it. That is why John S. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mr. writes in these strong terms:

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for securing extra

Owingsville Outlook.

OWINGSVILLE, KY.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1 YEAR IN ADVANCE.

THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1898.

THE war situation may be summed up thus: The authorities are bending every energy to be prepared for hostilities at the shortest notice, whether war comes by reason of the destruction of the Maine or because of steps to end the Cuban struggle. Much of the preparations have a permanent value, such as the planting of heavy artillery on the sea coast, repairing, completing and purchasing warships, and securing ammunition. The other preparations are valuable in drilling the War and Navy departments for an emergency. The cost will be well expended if never a shot is fired between the two nations over the present contentions.

A "YALLER" journal correspondent claims to have a copy of a letter written by Gen. "Butcher" Weyler stating that Havana harbor was loaded and hoping a Spanish harbor would punish the insult of sending an American warship there, which is important news, if true. The "yaller" journals follow "Wolf" so much when there is no wolf that sober people place no reliance in what they profess.

MONEY talks, and helps to fight also. When Spain went into the warship market recently reports had it that she was getting some formidable new ships. But probably she who had ships to sell had a better customer in mind and held off for better bids. If the late reports are reliable Uncle Sam has outbid Spain and has secured the refusal of all the best large ships that can be bought. Uncle Sam's idea is to keep down Spain's strength by this means, and he is spending his money well in doing it. It is cheaper to buy a big ship than to have to take it in battle. Besides, Uncle Sam's boys would be certain to shoot the ships full of holes and muck up the decks with remains, and the ships then wouldn't be worth repairing and cleaning.

THE U. S. Naval authorities decided last week to form three powerful North Atlantic squadrons of battleships and the best cruisers instead of having one big one at Key West and the others scattered. One composed of the Iowa, Texas, Brooklyn, Columbia and Minneapolis will be stationed at Hampton Roads, Va., to be ready to go to the defense of any threatened coast north or south. This is a swift and powerful squadron. The four powerful double-turreted monitors Puritan, Amphitrite, Miantonomah and Terror will assemble at Port Royal, South Carolina. The Key West squadron will consist of the Indiana, Massachusetts, New York, and several of the smaller cruisers, gunboats and torpedo boats, capable of cleaning up the whole Spanish fleet in Cuban waters as a casual morning job. This movement gives the northern cities a feeling of better protection. Either of these squadrons could put up a sea fight that would be a caution to foreign navies.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY's policy is said to be to avoid if possible any action that will precipitate war with Spain until the end of the approaching unhealthy warm season in Cuba. A U. S. army on the island during the summer months would be in grave danger of annihilation by disease. Another advantage to be derived from delay is that the United States can make far better preparations than Spain during the intervening time and would really be in a position to end the war, if it comes, more quickly than by precipitating hostilities now. A protracted conflict would injure this country more in proportion than Spain because of our greater foreign commercial interests. However, events may force a crisis that Spain will meet by some overt act of hostility, and then the two nations will have it out on the sea. Spain, being overmatched in naval force, will likely not risk all or much in a great naval battle, but will aim to destroy the U. S. merchant marine, harass our coast, and by strategic attack attempt to put some of the large sea-ports to heavy tribute. The U. S. plan would probably be to blockade Cuba and Puerto Rico and to provide the acclimated insurgents with ample supplies of all sorts, leaving them to conquer the interior of each island and co-operate with a naval squadron in reducing Havana and other cities held by the Spanish. Then there would be the Philippine Islands, that are only held by armed force, where a similar blockade and co-operation with the insurgents might be attempted. A flying squadron and a large number of merchant ships converted into cruisers could attack the Spanish ocean commerce and threaten sea-ports in Spain so as to divert their naval forces from our waters. Our great sea-coast cities are fairly well defended by land batteries, etc., against a naval power like Spain, and are being steadily strengthened. Apparently the United States is able to force the fighting and put Spain on the defensive from the beginning. As the conflict progressed Spain would grow weaker and the United States stronger in military and naval power. There is no doubt that when cornered the Spanish would fight with the fury born of despair, even against great odds. It would be foolish for the American people to expect an unbroken series of triumphs, for whatever the weak-ness of the Spaniards they are fighters from the dawn of their history—passionate, fierce, vindictive and cruel.

Ara banquet in Havana Gen. Blanco said: "The present generation will never see another banner than that of Spain at the entrance to the Gulf of Mexico. That banner, representing civilization, progress, liberty, humanity and religion, will be eternal, like that of the first American nation." The Spanish banner may, and likely does, represent a nation intensely religious, but if it represents the other things he says it does the outside world is woefully mistaken on the subject of Spanish history and Spanish character.

In the program doesn't miscarry, today the twin sister battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge will slide down the ways for their first bath in salt water. They are the two most powerful projected warships in the world, though other nations have larger vessels that are intended to be a little swifter. It is in guns and armor together that the Kentucky and Kearsarge surpass all other ships, and power of guns and efficiency of armor are the chief offensive and defensive points of a fighting ship. The United States is building the Illinois, Alabama and Wisconsin, triplets, whose main batteries have six-inch rifles replacing the five-inch rifles of the Kentucky and Kearsarge, but the latter have each four eight-inch rifles that the former haven't. So the Kentucky will be more powerful in gun power than the Illinois. The Majestic is the latest and best type of the British battleship, and the Fuji of the Japanese. The other nations have nothing as powerful. A comparison of the United States, British and Japanese best types shows: the Kentucky 15,525 tons displacement, the Majestic 15,000 tons, and the Fuji 12,450; the Kentucky has four 13-inch, four 8-inch, four 6-inch, twenty 6-pounder and six 1-pounder rifles; the Majestic has four 12-inch, twelve 6-inch, eighteen 12-pounder and twelve 3-pounder rifles; the Fuji has four 12-inch, ten 6-inch, fourteen 3-pounder and ten 23-pounder rifles. Their armor plates are: Kentucky 16 1/2 inches thick, Majestic 15, and the Fuji 18 to 12. Their speed is: Kentucky 16 knots, Majestic 17 1/2 and Fuji 18. At any target the Kentucky could deliver a much heavier charge than either the Majestic or the Fuji and could withstand throughout a heavy charge against her better owing to quality and arrangement of armor. So Kentuckians have reason to be proud that one of the two greatest warships in the world honor the State by bearing the name "Kentucky."

MY FATHER IS GROWING OLD. Oh, when I gaze upon his face, That once was young and fair, I almost weep to think that age Could leave its image there; He stood the many storms of life, That round his pathway rolled; He's resting in life's sunshine now; My father is growing old. Oh, who can tell a father's love? When age brings on decay The form grows weak and eyes are dim. The mind fades fast away. Till years have past, life's sun goes down, The story then is told: Time whispers gently in my ear, My father is growing old. His journey to the grave is short, His work is almost done, His laboring limbs grow weaker still, His race is nearly run, Old age deserts him on the road, He waits for death to come, He's lost upon the shores of time, But angels lead to an eternal home. H. L. Maxey, who was stricken with partial paralysis the first day of April last and who has been lingering since with the best Christian fortitude without even a murmur or complaint, was taken with a relapse Monday night last and is quite low at this writing. The above was written by his daughter Lucy.

Very rainy and warm. Capt. Pitman went to Mt. Sterling Sunday evening. Ed Hawkins is suffering at Castle Jackson in Owingsville; charges, pistolizing. There would have been a good fishing season if it had not been for the high water. The bridge over Kinney's Branch has been repaired. There were seven planks burned. Vegetation is more forward than it has been for many years. Plum and peach trees are in full bloom. Note the vote on the salary grab in the 53d Congress. Bryan voted for it. The bill passed although the Democrats had a majority of 148 in the House. A majority of the Democrats voted for the bill. There was a dynamite cartridge placed under the end of toll-house near Salt Lick one night last week with very little damage. The party placing it there does not expect in handling explosives. Dad Withrow lost one half of his horse Saturday night by a sneak thief. Dad says he thinks they should come again, as they left him four roosters. He could spare them two of them and two charges of buck shot. One reason why the Government should own the railroads: The express companies pay one cent per lb. for transporting the mail; the Government pays 8 cents for mail service, making a difference of ten million dollars. It should be known by the people that it was the Democratic party that demonetized silver in 1893 and placed us on the present gold standard system, yet it is the same party that talks so much about free silver. A man that favors free coinage of silver has got to be one of three things: a dupe, a hypocrite or a Populist.

Mr. Finley Kincaid is on the sick list. Arthur Powers visited his brother Stoner last week. Ora Martt is visiting his parents near Morehead this week. Miss Jane Glover is visiting friends in Owingsville this week. Mrs. Will Powers, of Owingsville, visited her son W. B. Powers and wife last week. Miss Fannie Glover is teaching a subscription school at her home near this place. James Kincaid purchased of Joe C. Turley twenty acres of land, price unknown. James Clark and Sam Crooks made a business trip to Mt. Sterling last Friday.

W. T. Latham sold to Sam Latham 30 head of hogs at $3.35. Misses Nettie Coyle and Dollie Clark visited relatives here last week. Plenty of rain and mud, and the farmers are getting behind with their work. Mrs. John Goodpaster and Mrs. George Goodpaster, both sick, continue about the same. Grange City. B. H. Rice and Isaac Eden went to Mayville last week. Miss Emma Daulton has returned from Montgomery county. Errett Williams and brother Dabney, of near Judy, were here Wednesday. Married, Thursday, March 17th, at the home of Mrs. Thompson, John Markwell and Miss Lizzie Thompson; Luster Crawford and Miss Nannie Phelps. S. C. Williams, formerly of this place, and Miss Etta Clark, of Hillsboro, were married at the bride's home March 16, 1898. Clem is a most exemplary young man, one well worthy of the fair bride he has chosen. We wish them a happy life.

Wyoming. Born, to the wife of H. Clay Anderson, a daughter. W. S. Estill, who has been under the weather a few days, is some better. The wet weather prevented the organization of a Sunday school at the Church Sunday. Continued rains keep the river at high tide. A large number of rafts have passed. A movement was inaugurated here Sunday to purchase an organ for the Church. It is now supplemented by a subscription for fence repairs, mending for ailes, and for song books. Considering amount of money involved we ought to raise the required fund with little difficulty. Craigs. A wedding soon. For particulars ask Bob Tinscher. The peach trees will be in full bloom by the twenty-fifth. Born, to Dave Goodpaster and wife, twin boys—Felix and Espy. Mrs. Sam Shultz visited her nephew, James Clark, at the Preston toll gate Monday. Pres Sexton, who has been poorly for a long time with paralysis, seems to be getting worse. Revs. Myhrer and Jones, of Bowman county, are holding a few days' meeting at this place. Misses Ruth and Lizzie Markland, of near Owingsville, visited Miss Daisy Coyle Saturday and Sunday. Fount Jones is going to Kansas City, Missouri, in a few days to be treated by a faith doctor. He is so helpless he has to take two attendants with him. Stepstone. MY FATHER IS GROWING OLD. Oh, when I gaze upon his face, That once was young and fair, I almost weep to think that age Could leave its image there; He stood the many storms of life, That round his pathway rolled; He's resting in life's sunshine now; My father is growing old. Oh, who can tell a father's love? When age brings on decay The form grows weak and eyes are dim. The mind fades fast away. Till years have past, life's sun goes down, The story then is told: Time whispers gently in my ear, My father is growing old. His journey to the grave is short, His work is almost done, His laboring limbs grow weaker still, His race is nearly run, Old age deserts him on the road, He waits for death to come, He's lost upon the shores of time, But angels lead to an eternal home. H. L. Maxey, who was stricken with partial paralysis the first day of April last and who has been lingering since with the best Christian fortitude without even a murmur or complaint, was taken with a relapse Monday night last and is quite low at this writing. The above was written by his daughter Lucy.

Knob Lick. Very rainy and warm. Capt. Pitman went to Mt. Sterling Sunday evening. Ed Hawkins is suffering at Castle Jackson in Owingsville; charges, pistolizing. There would have been a good fishing season if it had not been for the high water. The bridge over Kinney's Branch has been repaired. There were seven planks burned. Vegetation is more forward than it has been for many years. Plum and peach trees are in full bloom. Note the vote on the salary grab in the 53d Congress. Bryan voted for it. The bill passed although the Democrats had a majority of 148 in the House. A majority of the Democrats voted for the bill. There was a dynamite cartridge placed under the end of toll-house near Salt Lick one night last week with very little damage. The party placing it there does not expect in handling explosives. Dad Withrow lost one half of his horse Saturday night by a sneak thief. Dad says he thinks they should come again, as they left him four roosters. He could spare them two of them and two charges of buck shot. One reason why the Government should own the railroads: The express companies pay one cent per lb. for transporting the mail; the Government pays 8 cents for mail service, making a difference of ten million dollars. It should be known by the people that it was the Democratic party that demonetized silver in 1893 and placed us on the present gold standard system, yet it is the same party that talks so much about free silver. A man that favors free coinage of silver has got to be one of three things: a dupe, a hypocrite or a Populist.

Wyoming.

Born, to the wife of H. Clay Anderson, a daughter.

W. S. Estill, who has been under the weather a few days, is some better.

The wet weather prevented the organization of a Sunday school at the Church Sunday.

Continued rains keep the river at high tide. A large number of rafts have passed.

A movement was inaugurated here Sunday to purchase an organ for the Church. It is now supplemented by a subscription for fence repairs, mending for ailes, and for song books.

Considering amount of money involved we ought to raise the required fund with little difficulty.

Craigs. A wedding soon. For particulars ask Bob Tinscher.

The peach trees will be in full bloom by the twenty-fifth.

Born, to Dave Goodpaster and wife, twin boys—Felix and Espy.

Mrs. Sam Shultz visited her nephew, James Clark, at the Preston toll gate Monday.

Pres Sexton, who has been poorly for a long time with paralysis, seems to be getting worse.

Revs. Myhrer and Jones, of Bowman county, are holding a few days' meeting at this place.

Misses Ruth and Lizzie Markland, of near Owingsville, visited Miss Daisy Coyle Saturday and Sunday.

Fount Jones is going to Kansas City, Missouri, in a few days to be treated by a faith doctor.

He is so helpless he has to take two attendants with him.

Stepstone. MY FATHER IS GROWING OLD. Oh, when I gaze upon his face, That once was young and fair, I almost weep to think that age Could leave its image there;

He stood the many storms of life, That round his pathway rolled; He's resting in life's sunshine now; My father is growing old.

Oh, who can tell a father's love? When age brings on decay The form grows weak and eyes are dim. The mind fades fast away.

Till years have past, life's sun goes down, The story then is told: Time whispers gently in my ear, My father is growing old.

His journey to the grave is short, His work is almost done, His laboring limbs grow weaker still, His race is nearly run,

Old age deserts him on the road, He waits for death to come, He's lost upon the shores of time, But angels lead to an eternal home.

H. L. Maxey, who was stricken with partial paralysis the first day of April last and who has been lingering since with the best Christian fortitude without even a murmur or complaint, was taken with a relapse Monday night last and is quite low at this writing.

The above was written by his daughter Lucy.

Knob Lick. Very rainy and warm. Capt. Pitman went to Mt. Sterling Sunday evening.

Ed Hawkins is suffering at Castle Jackson in Owingsville; charges, pistolizing.

There would have been a good fishing season if it had not been for the high water.

The bridge over Kinney's Branch has been repaired. There were seven planks burned.

Mrs. Emily Bradbury, after a two weeks' stay in this vicinity, has returned to her home near Camargo.

Miss Lellie Steele, after a pleasant visit among friends and relatives on Stepstone, returned home Sunday.

Miss Maggie Carmody, the charming belle of this place, is teaching a subscription school at Oak Hill school house.

We were truly glad to hear from our Forge Hill correspondent last week. We were beginning to think he had gone to fight Spain.

Miss Ida Witt entertained at her home last Tuesday night. Quite a number of her young friends were present. Dancing was the order of the evening, the music being furnished by the Corinth Band.

An elegant supper was served to the guests, and at a late hour they departed with highest praise to the charming hostesses and the hospitable manner in which they were received.

Moore's Ferry. J. M. Kissick bought one steer calf of Mason Garner for $25.

G. B. Myers was in the Licking Union neighborhood last Thursday and Friday.

Leslie Atchison bought a 2-year-old heifer calf of Wm. Ingram for thirty dollars.

Jas. Kendall, of Menifee Co., was here last Friday night and Saturday, the guest of A. W. Shroat.

Taylor Ellington started six rafts of logs to market Sunday and three Monday; sold to C. C. Hagermeyer, of Butler, Ky.

Elder Long, Evangelist, preached at Hedrick's last Thursday and Friday nights. He will be here again some time in June.

W. A. Baty and wife returned from Oklahoma last Saturday. Their many friends welcome them back to our village again. Mr. Baty is one of our popular and progressive farmers.

E. C. Kimbrell, of Ticktown, Montgomery county, closed his second term of writing-school at Hedrick's Saturday with a nice entertainment, which the young folks enjoyed very much. Mrs. G. B. Myers was awarded first prize for improvement in writing, and John S. Rawlings second prize for same.

Sharpsburg. S. C. Allen visited at Millersburg from Saturday until Monday.

Frank Richard, of Mt. Sterling, visited relatives here several days the past week.

W. H. Canan will move from the toll-gate to his farm near town about April 1st.

John Fields, Jr., left last Monday for Tennessee, to make that State his future home.

M. T. Rankin and wife, of Harrison county, were visitors several days last week at S. T. Howard's.

W. P. Dickey and Alfred Stone, of Mt. Sterling, were here Thursday and passed on to visit friends at Bethel.

T. Jeff Triplett, of Moore's Ferry, was here last week supplying our citizens with Tall Hyson tea (sassafras).

Mrs. D. S. Trumbo, of Bethel, returned home on Thursday, after a week's pleasant visit with Mrs. J. M. Brown.

Miss Verdie Hanly, of Hill Top, Fleming county, has been visiting relatives and friends near town for several days.

Will King, of Sardis, has rented the blacksmith shop of J. F. Heath, near town, and will move in a few days. Mr. King is a good smith and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage.

R. R. Williams, who formerly lived near town, left Monday with his family for Galesburg, Kansas, where he will stop temporarily until fall, when he will move to Indiana Territory.

Olympia. Wat Bailey, of Morehead, was down Monday.

Miss Bertie Gault, of Owingsville, was out Sunday.

Salt Lick.

Born, to Frank Wills and wife, a daughter.

Miss Minnie Parker, of Farmers, is visiting Miss Katie Evans.

Mrs. John Cheap has returned, after several days' visit with her parents, at Flemingsburg.

Misses Hallie Vaughn, of Lexington, and Dollie Kautz, of Yale, are guests of Mrs. J. M. Pierce.

On last Wednesday evening at Farmers, Mr. Sam Jones, of this place, and Miss Carrie Scott were married. They will make this place their home.

Last Court day, at Gillon's auction, Johnnie Wills bought a pair of button, No. 4 ladies' shoes. The salesman wrapped up two lefts and gave another man a pair of rights.

If this man will make himself known by dropping a postal card to Johnnie Wills, Salt Lick, the exchange will be made.

Odessa. Dallas Gidgell has been down with the grip for several days, but is out again.

One more sunny day will bring the peach trees out in full bloom. Then what a fine time Jack Frost is going to have harvesting his crop.

Joseph R. Jones while chopping wood last week cut his foot with the ax, inflicting a severe gash, which will lay him up for several days or probably weeks.

Miss May, daughter of J. J. Swetnam, Jr., contemplated beginning teaching a subscription school at upper White Oak Monday.

On account of mumps being so prevalent she probably did not nor will not begin for a few weeks.

Miss Harriett Snedegar, who had been very sick with fever at Mt. Sterling and returned home about a month ago, left last Friday for Morehead to make her home with Mrs. Della Powers, with whom she has formerly made her home.

The Sick.—Mrs. R. E. Reeves is improving and hopes to be up for the past week, but very slowly. Mrs. Louisa Doggett continues to improve slowly, but is yet very weak and feeble. Those mentioned last week who had the mumps have all about recovered. The new cases are too tedious and numerous to mention.

O. W. Jones sold 4 acres of land to his father, F. T. Jones, last week at $25 per acre. The former and his brother John W. bought Mrs. Eliza J. Latham's interest of 19 1/2 acres in the lower land of the late Deborah Jones at $17.50 per acre cash; also the interest of 20 acres from the heirs of Samuel F. Jones in same; also the 8 acres the latter owned adjoining it, all at same price.

On last Sunday morning J. W. Swetnam went up to the home of his neighbor and tenant Newton Carter to spend a few hours. On arriving he found Newton lost as to the day of the week. He had his saw with one handle off out at work sawing rail timber by himself and said he was going to sow tobacco beds after dinner if J. W. thought the ground dry enough. The latter notifying him it was Sunday he contended for quite a while that it was Saturday. It's believed that Newton was honestly mistaken, but will say if not in one week do like H. O.: fling in a night or two and rest and keep the Sabbath.

Hillsboro. Born, to the wife of Postmaster J. H. Hawkins, a boy.

Miss Virgie McMillen came over from Carlisle last week to visit her aunt Mrs. Clark Garnett.

Frank Clark came down from Ashland to attend the wedding of his sister Miss Etta Wednesday.

C. W. Garnett was in Texas the last few days, to see his mother, whom he hasn't seen for 11 years.

Chas. Lytle and wife came up Wednesday from Fairview to attend the Williams-Clark wedding.

A. R. Harrison received a pension of eight dollars a month and $123 back pay from the Government last week.

Miss Ella Crawford and sister, Mrs. Emma Richards, of Tolleboro, visited their mother, Mrs. Judith Emmons, last week.

Wm. Busby's wife was adjudged insane last week and was taken to the asylum. This is the second time that she has been there.

Mrs. Sallie Reynolds came down from Pittsburgh, Penn., Friday, to visit relatives. Her daughter Miss Victor, who is attending school at the convent at Marysville, accompanied her.

J. Morg Hunter returned Friday from a visit to Florida and is very much pleased with the country. He and his family will likely move there in a few weeks and make that their future home.

Mrs. Marguerite Chadwick, wife of Rev. A. B. Chadwick, died at her home near Sunset Thursday of last week. Interment at Eden's Chapel Friday. Rev. Thos. Wood conducted the funeral services. The deceased was formerly a Miss Walton. She leaves a husband and several grown children.

There are some women who are reminded that they are superior creatures every time a man takes off his hat to them.

A South Side hobo says life is like a nutmeg grater—you have to rub up against the rough side of it to accomplish anything.

James Greer can travel over more territory, do more business and return in one day than any man we know of. He is a hustler.

Your scribe was called Saturday to assist Prof. E. C. Kimbrell with his entertainment near Hedrick's, which proved to be a great success.

A Frenchburg man fell on one of the poor sidewalks going home from church the other night and broke one of the commandments—that's all.

Every one, large and small, old and young, good-looking and ugly, intelligent and ignorant, saint and sinner, should read THE OUTLOOK each week.

It is rumored in the South Side that Uncle Sam is fixing to turn one of our foot-ball teams loose on little Spain. We think that would be awfully cruel.

From the amount of space the lightning-bug scribe uses in THE OUTLOOK we judge he believes in printer's ink and knows a good medium when he sees it.

Say, you neighbor over there, you have been borrowing this paper for a long time now. Suppose you put yourself in a position to loan it by subscribing and paying for it.

Your scribe picked up a note near Rothwell yesterday which among other things contained the following sentence: "mi hart beats only for the, mi darling honey."

Go to church with your girl, my boy, and come out with her like a gentleman. Don't stand on the corner like a common loafer and "pick her up" as she starts home.

The White Sulphur band boys meet every Tuesday and Friday evenings at the school-house. They are good musicians, and we may expect some fine music at the public gatherings this summer.

During a revival meeting held at Frenchburg recently a man who had not been to church for seven years went up one night and when he got to the door he gave three knocks and a scratch. A boy inside opened the door and the man walked in.

From the war talk indulged in our town one would be led to believe that should a war break out with Spain that the town and county would soon be depopulated, and that enough of the male sex would not be left to saw wood and protect the widows. However, if our fair sex will prevail on one or two of our male citizens to stay the wood we will promise to stay at home and protect the widows.

T. J. Green, of Missouri, in writing to have his subscription renewed, among other things says: "I have been a subscriber to THE OUTLOOK since its first issue under the editorship of Sam Estill, who is a true Jeffersonian Democrat, able, honest and a friend of the people. He is not afraid to advocate the truth by pen and voice. I like the paper and appreciate the bold and fearless way in which it is conducted."

THE OUTLOOK has quite a nice string of correspondents. I believe that is the best feature of a country newspaper. The majority of subscribers like to read locals from different parts of the county. I for one do not care to read town society news, and I believe the most of country people are the same way. I hope that those who are now writing for THE OUTLOOK will still continue to do so, and other parts of the county may be reported that are not represented now.

A quiet wedding occurred at the residence of Elder A. Kendall on the 15th inst. The contracting parties were Ed Spencer and Mrs. Olie Benson, Elder Kendall officiating. The bride is the beautiful and intelligent daughter of Henry Shroat.

These young people are of the best families of our community and a host of friends congratulated them on their happy marriage. They returned to the home of the father of the groom, Turner Spencer, where a reception was given. We wish them a happy life.

Carrington is on a boom. Several new buildings went up recently. Renewed energy and enterprise have taken hold of our people. The continual puffing of H. B. Armitage's and Frank Craig's large saw mills plainly show that prosperity is coming this way. The town council is having a heavy coat of gravel put on Main street from one end to the other. They are also having heavy oak water conduits laid at the intersections so as to make them easier and less dangerous to vehicles than the open stone gulleys. The cob pipe factory being erected by James Kendall and Tom Staton is near completion and will employ about eighty men. Our leading merchant has gone east to lay in a new variety of the latest style of spring goods and has employed John Bashford to clerk for him while he is gone. The first issue of a daily paper will appear Monday morning called the Carrington Thomas Cat. In addition to this we will have good roads and nice sidewalks. The next great move will be the erection of a national bank on Front Street.

CLODROPPER.

TILLERS OF THE SOIL

Having at all times recognized our obligations to the farmers of Bath county, knowing that their confidence and aid was essential to success in our business, we address these few lines asking that you READ CAREFULLY and act as in your judgment seems best. We are now receiving and have in stock a full and complete line of

Oliver CHILLED PLOWS

It is useless to call your attention to the excellence of this plow, as OVER 1,000 of them are now in use in this county, having outlived all and is growing steadily in favor all over Ky. and the West, the sales increasing yearly. We have them in all sizes from both steel and wood beams, with every repair, even down to the smallest bolt used in their construction. We also carry a full line of sizes of the celebrated which is admitted by all who have used them to be the KING of Hillside Plows. Also a full stock of Brown Double Shovels, Five and Seven Tooth Cultivators.

CHEAP IMITATIONS

BALL'S Hillside Plows.

TIGER DISC HARROWS,

16 AND 20 INCH DISC. A full and complete line of PLOW and WAGON GEARING, CHECK LINES, &c., &c. Also full stock of Brown Double Shovels, Five and Seven Tooth Cultivators.

IN SADDLES

We carry the Leather Tree and Spring-Seat HAND MADE, also Morgan Tree and Spring-Seat kinds both good and cheap. Our Spring-Seat is made by Capt. McGinty, of Falmouth, Ky., who has had thirty-five years' experience at the bench, and every saddle he makes is fully guaranteed. Call and see them.

BARBED AND SMOOTH WIRE.

Having bought our wire this year in ear-load lots we are prepared to sell wire cheaper than it has ever been sold in Bath or adjoining counties. Now don't take any man's word for statements made as to goods and prices for yourselves. If we make our promises good come and see us and we will send you home happy in possession of more goods for less money than you ever bought in your life.

Respectfully,

JOHN A. RAMSEY & CO., OWINGSVILLE.

Commissioner's Sale. Commissioner's Sale.

BATH CIRCUIT COURT. Notice of L. N. Anderson's Adm., Plff., vs. Sale in L. N. Anderson's Heirs, &c., Dfs., Equity. By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of the Bath Circuit Court rendered at the February term thereof, 1898, in the above case, I will sell at the Court-house door in Owingsville, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public outcry, on MONDAY, APRIL 13, 1898, at 10 o'clock, or the right of redemption in a tract of land lying in Bath county, Ky., and described as follows: Beginning at a post in fence line in line with Garard and corner line of L. N. Anderson's tract, thence up the branch, thence S 85° 25' W 3/4 poles to a black walnut corner to same, thence S 80° deg. W 1/4 poles to a stone corner to same, thence S 75° 30' W 3/4 poles to a black tree corner to same, thence S 40° W 3/4 poles to a stone corner to same, thence S 19° W 21 poles to a stone corner to same, thence S 75° 30' W 3/4 poles to a stone corner to same, thence S 85° 25' W 3/4 poles to a stone corner to same, thence S 26° W 1/4 poles to a poplar stump corner to same, thence S 85° 25' W 3/4 poles to a stone in John Bradley's line and a corner to the part not sold to J. H. Richard, thence with the line of said unsold part S 3 deg. E 1/2 poles to a stone corner to same, thence S 85° 25' W 3/4 poles to a stone corner to same, thence